

A vision for business education in your school...

“Only about half the business education departments had a vision for the subject that extended beyond examination courses to include developing all students’ economic and business understanding and financial capacity”

(OfSTED 2008)

Taktix will help you in developing a vision for business education that is:

- Located in real-life situations
- Based around team building and confidence building
- Creative and dynamic
- Differentiated
- Multi-modal
- Knowledge-building and knowledge-using

“If schools had them (Taktix) it would be great for education”
